

About Community Transport

Community Transport helps people who have limited or no access to private vehicles or public transport. Services may include transport to and from your destination, vehicles suitable for wheelchairs and other mobility needs, trained drivers and multilingual staff.

About the trial

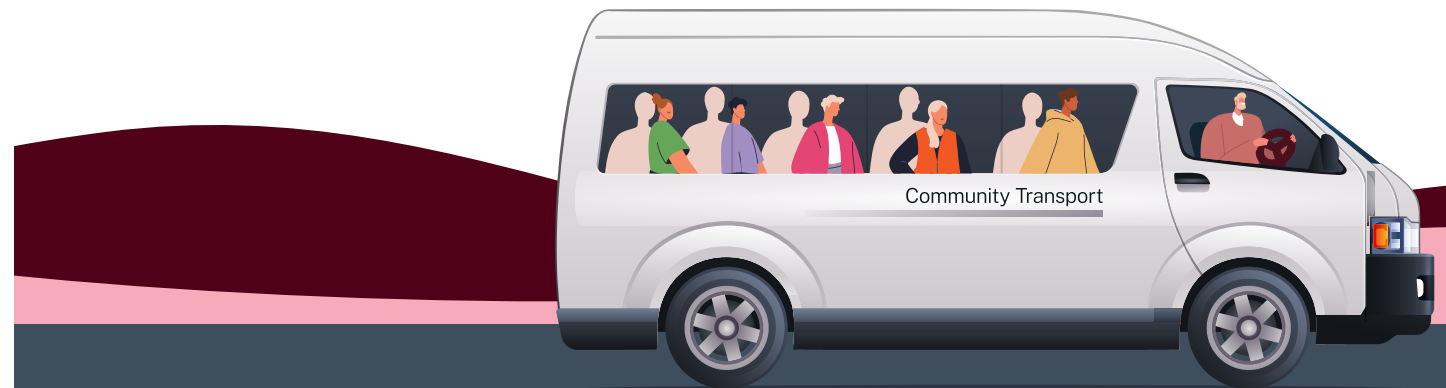

The NSW Government is trialling expanded Community Transport in regional NSW, to help eligible people travel to TAFE NSW, Registered Training Organisations (RTOs), and apprenticeship and traineeship workplaces. The trial can run until 30 June 2027.

Community Transport for study, training and work

How to use the service

To find trial locations and providers, visit transportnsw.info/travel-info/ways-to-get-around/community-transport.

We're trialling expanded Community Transport eligibility for TAFE NSW and registered training organisation students, apprentices and trainees in select regional areas.

Check if you're eligible and find providers in your area.

Eligibility

You may be eligible if you meet all of the following:

If you attend in-person study or training, or travel to and from work as an apprentice or trainee.

If you have limited or no access to private or public transport because of where you live, where you need to travel to, or have cost or accessibility needs.

You won't be eligible if any of the following apply:

You have suitable access to public or private transport.

You already receive government-funded transport for TAFE NSW, a registered training organisation, an apprenticeship, a traineeship or other training.

You receive the School Drive Subsidy.

You are travelling between home and primary or secondary school, or are travelling to or from university.
