SYD Airport & South West Line

More frequent services, more local connections and more reliable journeys from November

Transport is introducing a new train timetable on Sunday 15 November 2026 to deliver service improvements for South Coast, T8 SYD Airport & South West, T4 Eastern Suburbs & Illawarra and T2 Leppington & Inner West line passengers.

Some passengers on the T8 SYD Airport & South West Line will benefit from more frequent services and more reliable journeys.

The improvements will deliver more seats and less crowding – meaning more comfortable journeys for many passengers.

More services: Turn-up-and-go peak services now operate every four minutes on average for stations between Wolli Creek and Green Square.

Simpler timetable: To improve timetable consistency, all peak services that previously operated via Sydenham will now operate via Wolli Creek, International Airport, Domestic Airport and Green Square.

Reduced wait times: More services will reduce peak wait times by around 2.5 minutes on average for passengers between Wolli Creek and Green Square.

Transport for NSW acknowledges the Traditional Custodians of the lands on which we work and pays respect to Elders past and present.

T8 SYD Airport & South West Line changes

The T8 Airport and South Line will be renamed the T8 SYD Airport & South West Line to better reflect the destinations it serves.

All services will operate through the Airport Tunnel, delivering more turn-up-and-go travel to the domestic and international airport stations and the Sydney CBD.

St Peters and Erskineville will move to the T4 Eastern Suburbs & Illawarra Line. This change removes existing T8 Airport & South Line loop services currently operating outside of the peaks and on weekends between Sydenham and the Sydney CBD. These services were introduced in October 2024 to maintain connections for St Peters and Erskineville to the Sydney CBD following the closure of the T3 Bankstown Line for its upgrade to metro standards.

Passengers travelling on the T8 SYD Airport & South West Line to Sydenham, St Peters, Erskineville and Redfern can interchange at Wolli Creek to the T4 Eastern Suburbs & Illawarra Line to reach their destination.

The number of services to and from the Sydney CBD will remain the same throughout the day for all passengers southwest of Wolli Creek.

How your trip will change

Journey times: Passengers travelling from Wolli Creek to the Sydney CBD will experience no change in journey times. Passengers travelling to the Sydney CBD from stations southwest of Revesby may experience small journey time increases of up to 2 minutes in the morning peak.

Line changes: All T8 SYD Airport & South West Line services connect to the Sydney CBD via the airport tunnel and no longer operate via Sydenham.

Metro services: T8 SYD Airport & South West Line passengers can connect to Sydney Metro services via Central or interchange to T4 Eastern Suburbs & Illawarra Line services at Wolli Creek.

Service times: Departure times of trains will change across the entire line, trains people use may depart at different times and stop at different stations.

Passenger profile

Rani, 35, travels from Campbelltown to Victoria Cross station every few weeks to visit her mother, usually travelling with a young child in a pram and a nappy bag.

Today's journey

'I regularly travel from Campbelltown to visit my mum on the North Shore and usually bring my baby in a pram. Today, I can catch a train every 7.5 minutes and reach Victoria Cross in around 62 minutes with a change at Sydenham.

Travelling with a pram can make interchanging more difficult, especially when platforms are busy. I often need extra time to move between services and make sure I can board comfortably.'

Future journey

'I regularly travel from Campbelltown to visit my mum on the North Shore and usually bring my baby in a pram. In the new timetable, I can catch a train every 5 minutes and reach Victoria Cross in around 73 minutes with a change at Central.

While the journey takes a little longer, the more frequent and reliable services make travelling easier. The accessible interchange at Central gives me confidence when travelling with a pram and makes visiting my mum simpler and less stressful.'

Passenger profile

James, 29, travels from Glenfield to Sydney Airport several times a week for work, usually carrying a backpack.

Today's journey

'I travel from Glenfield to Sydney Airport regularly for work and often need to be at the airport between 8am and 9am. Today, I can catch a direct train every 15 minutes and reach the airport in around 32 minutes.

The direct service is convenient, but if I miss a train, the wait can feel significant. During busy periods, having fewer services can make the journey feel less flexible.'

Future journey

'With the new timetable, I can catch a service every five minutes and reach Sydney Airport in around 28 minutes during the morning peak.

The more frequent services mean I have greater flexibility and spend less time waiting for a train. The faster journey and turn-up-and-go frequency make travelling to the airport easier and more reliable.'

Bus services across Sydney

Bus services across Greater Sydney may be updated with revised timetables to better meet passenger travel needs.

These changes are part of an ongoing program of network improvements designed to deliver a more integrated, flexible and easy-to-use public transport system, providing better connections and a more convenient travel experience for passengers.

Plan your trip

The new timetable starts on Sunday 15 November 2026.
